Expand your repertoire of leadership and management strategies in this program designed exclusively for executive women. As you explore emerging best practices, exchange insights, and try out new ideas in a supportive environment, you'll prepare to contribute more fully to your organization's ongoing success.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

Women in senior leadership positions in public and private companies and nonprofit organizations, including senior executives, business owners and entrepreneurs, business unit leaders, and other senior businesswomen. While the program is designed for women executives (and will be most beneficial to those who identify as such), the program is open to all executives who otherwise fulfill the admissions criteria.

THIS PROGRAM WILL HELP YOU TO

- Enhance your approach to leadership, expand your impact—and re-energize your career
- Adapt your business to current conditions and build strategic advantage
- Improve your organization's ability to innovate and capture new opportunities
- Recognize and address personal blind spots
- Work more effectively with a diverse range of colleagues
- Make decisions with greater confidence
- Develop talent and leadership qualities in others
- Create an internal culture that thrives on diversity and change
- Foster ethical decision-making throughout the organization
- Expand your personal and professional network

WHAT YOU WILL LEARN

Through faculty presentations, case studies, small-group exercises, self-assessments, and personal coaching, you will explore the latest thinking on leadership, gender in the workplace, and innovation. Assessing your strengths, weaknesses, and challenges as a leader, you will evolve your leadership approach and create a personal action plan. Curriculum topics include:

- Leadership: Aligning your leadership strategy and style with your own personal values and self-image
- Innovation: Identifying opportunities for new or enhanced products, services, and business models, while supporting entrepreneurial initiatives
- Negotiation: Capturing maximum value through skillful and effective negotiation
- Service Management: Enhancing service and differentiating on service excellence
- Change: Leading organizational change and creating an environment that inspires and sustains results-focused change
- Values: Implementing ethical negotiation and decisionmaking strategies across all levels of the organization
